

COLLETS

THE old saw, "No news is good news," does not apply to summer resort gossip, for the most refreshing reports come from all the well-known resorts, while from the few quiet old-fashioned places, where folks love to tuck themselves away for absolute rest, come pleasant stories of how people recreate and pass their time.

Of course, the New England resorts always lead in real gaiety, and one always expects at this season startling innovations in the way of entertainment. Probably the start along this line will be made at Newport as usual, when spectacular dinner parties, followed by all sorts of fantastic entertainments, musicals, vaudeville shows, and so on far outreach one's expectations or imagination.

Long Branch is inclined to put on a few airs over its coming eleventh annual horse show, which takes place the last week in this month. Boxes have been reserved for President Roosevelt, Judge Alton Brooks Parker, Senator David B. Hill, Mayor George B. McClellan, and other notables, who, if they really attend, will give the Long Branch Horse Show a most enviable flavor for years to come.

Bar Harbor has a larger contingent of fashionable people from Washington than most of the other resorts and life there is always of particular interest to the stay-at-home. The Swimming Club is the most popular place at Bar Harbor now, scores of people resorting to the pool in the morning and early afternoon, while the promenades built over the dressing rooms affords an ideal place for conversation and for watching the tennis matches on the really excellent courts adjoining, while the games at the Kebo Valley Club are not less attractive.

Tennis has a new interest for the Bar Harborites, and a tournament is talked of for a close to the social season. Golf and yachting also interest people at this resort. The Eastern Yacht Club cruise closed there yesterday, and tomorrow a series of races will be sailed in the outer bay. There will be events for all classes of boats and a special race for the Bar Harbor thirty-one footers. By permission of the Government, the Bar Harbor Yacht Club has placed a number of permanent buoys in the harbor for the various courses, most of which may be seen from the shore.

Among the Washington people who make life brilliant at the Capital in the winter season and who are now vying with one another in entertaining at Bar Harbor, are the Russian ambassador and Countess Cassini, with the entire suite of the Russian embassy; the Austrian ambassador and Baroness Hengelmüller, with their suite, Mr. Brun, the Danish minister, who occupies the Clover cottage; the secretary of the Swedish and Norway legation, and his bride, Mrs. Hauge, and her small son, Master Frederick Joy, who live at Edgemore with Mrs. Hauge's mother, Mrs. Todd, of Kentucky; Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Jessup, Miss Celestine Eustis, who has Mare Vista for the season; the Hon. and Mrs. J. B. Henderson at Gleneyrie; Representative and Mrs. Robert R. Hitt, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Fairfax Whitting, Mrs. Richard H. Townsend and Miss Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick May and Miss May, who have Strawberry Hill House for the season; Col. and Mrs. Edward de V. Morrell, Mrs. Frances E. Musgrave, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Padelford, and Mrs. L. Z. Leiter and daughters, who have Pointe d'Acadie, on Cromwell Harbor, but who are in the deepest of mourning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, of Washington, who are among the gayest of Bar Harbor hosts this summer, entertained a dinner party at their place, Cleftstone, Cleftstone Road, last week in honor of Countess Cassini. Among the other guests at the dinner were Miss Mathilde Townsend, Mrs. Platt-Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Green, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Gallatin, Miss Madeline Knowlton, Mr. Gutowski, and Mr. Bobroff, of the Russian embassy; Mr. Zichy, of the Austrian embassy, and Arden Robbins.

Cape May is particularly gay, and has a few delightful fads which add a charm to the routine of life. On the beach at bathing time one will see dozens of modern sea nymphs rush from a hurried dip in the sea and play a game of baseball on the sandy stretch at the water's edge. This is a fine way in which to show pretty bathing costumes and amuses the spectators as well.

Marshmallow parties are another Cape May fad, and people passing along the beach will find dozens of these parties sitting about a fire on the sand toasting marshmallows on the end of a wire.

Nantucket guests find blue fishing the best they have enjoyed in years, small fishing parties hourly leave the hotels to indulge in the sport.

Probably the Virginia and West Virginia resorts are of more interest to Washington people after all than the more fashionable places in New York State, New Jersey, and along the New England coast. Life at "old" Sweet Springs is at its most fascinating stage, and among the guests who enjoy life there are Miss Frances Overton, a great granddaughter of Gov. William B. Giles, of Virginia; Dr. W. Grier, U. S. N., and his son, Dr. W. W. Grier; Capt. H. Maine, U. S. N.; Major and Mrs. G. W. Van Dusen, U. S. A., and the Misses Gladys and Hazel Van Dusen, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stevens, and E. C. Nalle.

Virginia Beach is exceedingly gay, and was particularly interested last week in three members of the Japanese legation, who paid a short visit to the resort.

When President Roosevelt returns to Washington next week, life for the officials detained here by business will assume a more cheerful phase, for the President never permits time to hang heavily upon his hands, and when not engaged in official duties, enlists all his friends in tennis, riding, and other outdoor sports, while every meal, even breakfast, finds numerous guests about the President's hospitable board.

Mrs. Roosevelt officially announced from the White House just before her departure for Oyster Bay that she would not return to Washington until September, so unless there is some change in her plans, the President and his secretaries alone will occupy the Executive Mansion.

Even should Mrs. Roosevelt decide to come, her visit would have no social significance, as her friends have all departed for cooler places.

Weddings.

A pretty home wedding took place at noon Thursday last, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig, 1217 Princeton Street northwest, when their niece, Miss Kathryn Froelich, became the bride of John W. Bond, of Laurel, Md.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white organdy and carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. Wilson, of Assembly's Presbyterian Church, a breakfast was served, and at 2:30 Mr. and Mrs. Bond left the city for a visit to relatives in Covington, Ky.

Mrs. Josephine Tucker announces the marriage of her sister, Miss Annie Agnes McCarthy, to Dr. George W. Warren, of this city, at Baltimore, Md., Wednesday, July 20.

Miss Pauline G. Haighy and William A. Widmer, of Philadelphia, were married in Philadelphia July 16 at their new residence, 50 West Rockland Street, by the Rev. Hawksworth. The bride has lived in Philadelphia with her sister for several years. The couple left on a wedding tour of Canada, and will also go to the World's Fair.

George W. Mahone, an employee of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, was married at Charlottesville, Va., last night to Miss Bertha Hargard. The couple went to Virginia Beach on their honeymoon.

J. McKenney Berry, of this city, and Miss Love Virginia Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. West Baker, of Winchester, Va., will be married at "Glendobbin," the beautiful country place of Mr. and Mrs. Baker, on September 21. Miss Eva Bryar, cousin of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Henry Huntington, of this city, will be best man. Mr. Berry will bring his bride to live in Washington.

Sailed Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. Roessie, Mrs. and Miss Tisdell, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mauro and the Misses Mauro and Mrs. and Miss Sarah W. Howe, wife and daughter of Dr. Frank Howe, were Washington passengers on New York ships sailing for foreign ports yesterday.

Mrs. Howe will make an extended visit to her daughters, the Misses Mary Helen and Marie Howe, who have been a year abroad.

Social Gossip

The arrival of the Earl of Suffolk in this country has set on foot a report that he has come over to marry Miss Daisy Leiter, the sister of Lady Curzon. As long ago as when Miss Leiter was the guest of the viceroy and her sister at the palace at Bombay the Earl of Suffolk was talked of as a suitor. He is a relative of the Earl of Craven, whose wife is Bradley Martin's daughter.

An attractive feature of life at East Gloucester, is the Siamosa legation, which has established its headquarters at that resort for the summer. Phya Akharaj Varadhara, the minister, is fond of lawn tennis and fishing, and spends much of his time in these sports. With him is Mr. Loftus, secretary; Mom Luang Kraval, and Nai Cheun, student attaches, who attract as much attention as does the minister. Mr. Loftus is an Englishman, and has just returned from his native land accompanied by Mrs. Loftus, who went abroad in the spring to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Norman have returned from Europe, for which they sailed April 6, and are entertaining large house parties at their summer home at Beverly Farms. They entertained fourteen at luncheon on Tuesday, and were hosts for a large dinner party yesterday.

Atlantic City had during the week as one of its most notable guests, Miss Anna Arnold, the Western woman who gave Commander Hobson his startling fame as a kisser. Miss Arnold was introduced to Hobson, impulsively seized and kissed him in true hero worship, and the trouble ever afterward followed him.

A. D. Addison, who, with Mrs. Addison, has arrived at Rockburne, their Bar Harbor estate, has declined to serve as manager of the Bar Harbor horse show this year, though he made a particular success of the event last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Addison spent the first part of the season at Magnolia and Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre have closed their home in New Street, and have gone to Manchester-by-the-Sea, for the rest of the summer. Mr. Denegre has been elected president of the North Shore Automobile Club.

Word has been received from Camp Stotsburg, Philippine Islands, of the safe arrival at that post of Lieut. and Mrs. Henry Bull, the latter, formerly Miss Wainwright, who were married in this city, April 5.

George Mitchell, also of Washington, gave a large card party in their honor immediately after their arrival, and Dr. and Mrs. Whitmore entertained at dinner for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who are at Prides Crossing, Mass., the Swift residence, are planning an automobile tour through the White Mountains and the Adirondacks. They will start the last of the month, using their twenty-horsepower machine for the trip. They are among the most enthusiastic motorists on the North Shore above Boston.

nis tournaments, bowling contests and amusements of every conceivable kind follow one another in quick succession from day to day.

Washington is particularly well represented, the younger members of society being great attractions and adding much to social life. The Virginia reel and "Paul Jones," two dances of the old South, always open the entertainment of the evening, and afford great merriment for the younger set.

Welsh rabbit parties are also the vogue, especially among the older folks. One of the most enjoyable recently given had Mrs. B. B. Poyce as hostess. Among the Washington people invited were Miss Edith Burke, Miss Daisy Mackall, Dr. G. Wythe Cooke, the Misses Worthington, Mrs. H. Kennon Clark, D. A. Mackall, Hon. James Hay, Miss Helen Casen, and William Burke.

Late arrivals at the Springs from Washington are Mrs. Malcolm Hufty and Miss Harriet W. Davidson.

Virginia Warm Springs

Baron Moncheur, the Belgian minister, and Baroness Moncheur, are enjoying life at the Warm Springs, Va., which is one of the most delightful of old South resorts. Walking, riding, driving, and card playing all find Baron Moncheur as a leader or hearty participant, while he and the baroness are considered among the most delightful dancers there.

Mrs. Postlethwaite and Miss Postlethwaite, and Mr. and Mrs. Mosher are among the Washington people enjoying the Warm Springs. Others from this city summering there are Dr. William Grier, surgeon general, U. S. N., retired; Mrs. T. Ritchie Stone, Miss Lillian Stone, Master King Stone, and Mrs. and Miss Deering.

News From Hampton

ICE CREAM INVENTOR.

A French chef who prepared the dish for the Duc de Chabres in 1774 is said to have made the first ice cream. Lord Bacon was aware of the process of congelation by means of snow and salt, but to him it was a scientific fact of greater or less interest, and he had no idea of the delightful possibilities of this process on various estates.

Food drinks and water ices were known to the Parisian epicures a century and a half before they were introduced into England, the dainties having probably come from the Far East by the hand of some traveler who had tasted sherbet.

Start the Children in Music

While They Are Young—The F. G. Smith Co., of 1225 Pa. Ave., Offers

USE OF PIANOS FREE

For Six Months—You to Pay Only the Cost of Drayage. A Very Commendable Educational Project.

All musical authorities agree on one point—and that is the advantage of starting the children in music while they are young and teachable and while the muscles of the hand are supple and capable of being trained or formed for the proper fingering of the piano keys. To encourage parents to provide an early education in music for their children the F. G. Smith Piano Co. of 1225 Pennsylvania Avenue offers to furnish good, serviceable pianos free for six months to parents or teachers who will make application at their warehouses. There are no conditions or restrictions to the offer—the use of the piano is absolutely free—you pay only the cost of drayage. It requires no argument to convince everybody of the incalculable benefit of a musical education for children. It provides a profitable and beneficial employment for their idle vacation days—keeps them out of the streets—and gives them a vocation by which if necessary they could in later years earn a livelihood, and besides music is an accomplishment that is considered almost obligatory nowadays in refined and cultured society circles.
